hello
greenhouse

The air is thick & wet.

These tropical houses are jammed with green.

These plants are spoiled, nurtured with light & water

crammed together,
pushed down by a ceiling

or stuck in small pots.

Seeing these tropical plants in their paradise house made appreciate the local plants with open space or those plants that thrive when the odds are against them.

@dorrismccomics
WEB
TOON